Interview with Frederick E. Jarvis, Postal Inspector

"Father, Forgive Them! They Know Not What They Are Doing"

AMERICA'S OGPU AND GESTAPO

There are things going on in San Diego which I am unable at present to reveal to the general public because I would jeopardize, in these times of totalitarian slave tactics, the safety of other people who are not as independent and as fearless as I am. They are dependent upon "government favors" for continuation in business, a state of affairs utterly deplorable in this alleged land of the brave and the free. All I can state is that the B'nai B'rithish method, the subversive method, by which not the Church and the State are united, but Business and the State are one, is materializing mighty fast, even in San Diego.

As a 15 year old boy I learned from our school catechet, a drunkard, but, even so, a means God used to show me the path to my divine heritage, in the words of our blessed Lord Jesus Christ: "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and its righteousness and all these things will be added unto you . . ."

"This is a bargain", was my reply to the old catechet and since that day to this I have been a freeman even though as a result I was locked up in insane asylums a number of times; have seen the inside of jails on three continents, but they could not prevail against the power of God and I was a free man even though confined physically and am free now, a free agent; a better natural born American in spirit and in deed than any in our New Deal B'rithish administration.

I have been recently warned by high and low that my course is charted for a concentration camp, or worse, if I persist telling the Truth about the B'rithish and the subversive New Deal Jews in America. My dear friends, I have come to the U. S. to make this a free country, and if it takes a concentration camp, or jail, or worse, to attract, cite and convict the powers that be of their criminal activity, who am I to say: Nay? It took a Galileo and a Giordano Bruno to expose and break the power of the Popish Inquisition; it took a John Brown to bring the negro slavery issue to a head; and if I am elected to set off the revulsion of the American people against Jewish totalitarian mischief in the U. S., is it not my duty to bring it about?

A soldier, a patriotic soldier, is not the hireling or the drafted slave who trembles in fear of his "superiors" and blindly executes their murderous orders. A real American patriot, in the service of his nation, is the man and woman who inspired by the example of Our Lord Jesus Christ dares the Jews to crucify him in public and treat him as a common criminal, because he upholds the very things the Jew Deal pretends to uphold and strive for, but systematically undermines and subverts .

And so while things are going on right here in San Diego, I just had an opportunity to release a victim of the FBI, by a long distance telephone call to the authorities in Los Angeles who had never intended to persecute the man; —while I am being shadowed, investigated, boycotted and threatened—BECAUSE I keep my oath of citizenship sacred and live up to it, to to utter dismay of the New Deal B'rithish outfit, I decided to investigate my investigators by calling upon our Postal Inspector Frederick E. Jarvis and Harold Nathan, the local F. B. I. boss, to seize them up and describe them to you, while we still have that precious chance to tell what we think about our hired servants who are already usurping powers over us, in violation of our constitution and their own oaths to obey and uphold it, before men like myself are silenced, the second class mailing permit revoked and the ether lanes are closed to those who, like Lindbergh, dare expose the criminal activities of our federal adminstration to sell us out to the B'nai B'rithish and hog tie us with Federal Bonds in billion denominations till Jewish world bankers will not only own every stitch on our back but have a mortgage for generations to come on the lives and labor of our children.

But they are going to discover that even Americans are not the suckers these ruthless murderers imagined us to be.

Making Appointments to See the "Almighty"

The danger of secret investigators, secret police and secret agents lies in the fact that they operate in the dark, behind your back; present government authority by which they can and do break the very laws they are sworn to uphold and through the red tape of court prosecution turn the process of justice into a travesty upon justice, because no matter how they framed you, it takes time, money, effort, loss of business and of prestiage in the eyes of a stupid or gullible public, who, because the federal authorities branded you a criminal take it for granted you are one.

So naturally, since the various branches of the national Gestapo are after me, I decided to as well make hay while the sun shines and use these personal incidents as a warning to my fellow citizens of what they themselves are going to experience tomorrow, if they dare follow in the path of Lindbergh and assert their rights. I have lived in Europe, Africa, Asia and in our Latin American neighbor country, so I know how government frame-up operates.

I hiked myself to the New Post Office building to see the Postal Inspector Frederick E. Jarvis. Was told to go up to the second floor, where the young lady informed me that he was busy. Upon my insistence, that, nevertheless, she announce my name and my presence in the anteroom, she walked into the sanctum sanctorum and returned with Mr. Jarvis, who in a friendly American way shook hands with me, execused himself and made an appointment for 10 am, Tuesday.

Then I walked over to the San Diego Trust & Savings Bank Building, took the elevator to the seventh floor and entered the offices of the F. B. I. The young lady, while courteous, gave me to understand, very impressivley, that the Almighty was in conference and could not be disturbed. I could see the shadows through the opaque glass door in Nathan's room where Agents were entering and leaving and heard the voices, but I have never known Federal Dicks, or other dicks, to be so absorbedly in conference but that the girl could not announce a visitor, if she deemed it important enough. And an American sovereign citizen who pays the salary of these dicks, certainly is important enough to be anounced to His Majesty.

But the young lady walked into another office, not the sanctum sanctorum, where she consulted with other subordinates and came back with the news that Mr. Nathan was too busy to be disturbed and I could return some other time. This had already happened to me several weeks ago and so I was determined not to be shown the gate a second time. "Kindly, tell Mr. Nathan that I am here and am waiting to see him, no matter how busy he be. If he cannot see me now, ask him to make a definite appointment for a fixed time, at his convenience."

"But I cannot interrupt Mr. Nathan", (she interrupted Mr. Nathan twice while I was having my interview next day)—said the young barrier.

"Listen, here. You are having too much red tape, I don't like it. You go and get me an appointment". Back she went, but not to the boss and returned with an appointment for Tuesday 2:30 pm and her manner was so changed, I could not believe my eyes. She was deference incarnate. Gone was the cold shoulder indifference; if FDR stood before her in person she could not have fawned more upon His Super Majesty Himself. Now, perhaps I am doing the young woman an injustice, perhaps her demeanor was because she was told that it was THE C. Leon de Aryan—and in that case perhaps she is one of my secret admirers, and I should apologize for calling it fawning—it might have been the ecstacy of being in the presence of HIM—.

But on my way from the office, I said to myself, they even got the girls trained to act up as told . . .

Frederick E. Jarvis

The next day, at the appointed time I appeared in the office of our postal inspector. The girl was not at her desk, the doors were open so I walked into the inner sanctum and there she was and her boss. They smiled upon me, called me by name and invited me to sit down, with the young lady retreating to her front office. I took another good look at Jarvis but he was on his guard, so I wondered how things would turn out. I waited for him to start the conver-

"Secret Service" Not G-Men

My attention was called to the caption in the BROOM of last week: G-MAN Threatens LADY.

It was pointed out to me that the term G-Man is commonly applied to the F. B. I. and as the story reveals that the offending agent was a member of the Secret Service, which is under the Treasury Department, I was doing an injustice to name him a G-Man.

As far as the "injustice" to the two departments is concerned my conscience is not hurting me a bit. It is true the F. B. I. is under the Justice Department and the term G-Man, then, should apply only to them, but just recently the FBI made a terrible bull in indicting another person, where I was instrumental in stopping an absolutely uncalled for commitment to jail, so that as far as the two departments and their agents are concerned, they are fully embarked on the line which has carried Germany with its Gestapo and Russia with its OGPU to the destruction of civil liberties. Under the cloak of "national defense" they are ruining the Republic.

Congratulations! Independent Unions!

(Over KGB, Wednesday, May 14, 1941)

I shall close this program with a local paragraph: Congratulations to the Rock & Gravel Employees Association of San Diego! By organizing their independent union and incorporating it under the laws of the State of California, these workers are fighting their battle of independence from the AFL labor racketeers. For years I have been opposing these racketeers single handedly; now I see that my example has not been in vain. I hope to see the day when every group of workers will produce their own organization which is not conducted for the profit of the labor racketeers but is a voluntary organization conducted for the benefit of the members of that organization in the spirit expressed in the Declaration of Independence and not contrary to it.

Our Radio Broadcasts

Since our successful radio program has demonstrated its worth and has proven the value of advertising THE BROOM, another weekly, not a competitor (nobody can compete in our line with THE BROOM) has been on the same radio station with propaganda for the bookmakers and the underworld. While there should not be any mistake as to who is speaking and what paper is represented, still, certain statements made by the representative of the underworld have been ascribed to us.

Kindly rest assured that our work is for good government and not for the profit of the bookmakers and the underworld. Neither is our program financed by that gentry but by men and women in the common walks of life who, like our editor, are adherents of clean government and the evolution of the American form of government to the point where the individual becomes sovereign and not controlled by burocracy which robs him blind and impairs the function of the U. S. Constitution.

Christians Are 'Interned' by Jew Deal

The following dispatches from the Associated Press tell the full story. While the President chats about the four fundamental "freedoms" everywhere in the world, right here in the U. S. A. it has become a crime to be a follower of Jesus Christ indeed and not merely nominally. The word INTERNMENT CAMP in the second dispatch is not our invention. It truthfully tells the story and appeared in the heading of the dispatch in the San Diego UNION. Gone is the U. S. Constitution; gone is the Bill of Rights; The Jewish Law of a tooth for a tooth, hate and destruction, persecution of young men for their religious beliefs is the law of the land under the Jew Deal.

Maryland Park First U. S. Camp For Conscientious Objectors

ELKRIDGE, Md.,—A peaceful forest site becomes the nation's first camp for conscientious objectors, possibly one training ground for reconstruction workers in war-shattered Europe.

Fifty young men are taking up quarters in an abandoned CCC camp at near-by Patapsco State park, the vanguard of hundreds of "CO's" to be stationed in a network of privately financed camps throughout the country.

"It is looking forward into a rather indefinite future, but there is a probability these men will be called upon after the war to aid in reconstruction and rehabilitation work abroad," said Dr. Ernst Wildman, camp director.

Duties Listed

Their non-military duties at the camps—soil conservation, forestry, flood control, road and park construction—will "train them for such reconstruction work," he said, adding that 600 "CO's" volunteered for service in France and other countries after the last war.

The camps—22 already are planned and more may be needed — are being established by the National Service Board of Religious Objectors, the co-ordinating board of 17 religious denominations. Religious groups will maintain the camps, with each man's maintenance estimated at $35 a month. The government supplies only housing, cots, bedding and kitchen equipment.

1200 Classified

Selective service headquarters estimate 1200 "CO's" already are classified in the draft and are slated for a year in the camps.

The Patapsco camp ultimately will have 125 men, living, said Wildman, "in a democratic way" with no military discipline, no uniforms and no pay. The first 50, representing 16 religious denominations, are from New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, North Carolina, Ohio and Massachusetts.

First Objectors Reach Interment Camp

ELKRIDGE, Md.,—Leaden skies and a drizzling rain greeted first arrivals at the nation's initial camp for conscientious objectors to military service in Patapsco state forest.

There was no formal ceremony as the first group of 17 young men arrived by auto from nearby Baltimore, but Paul Comly French, executive secretary of the national service board for religious objectors, characterized the venture as "a great opportunity for the churches of America".

HUMAN & WORLD PROGRESS

(Over KGB, Wednesday, May 14, 1941)

There is nothing new under the sun. Everything is relative. The difference between life and death is conditioned by our ability to grasp its reality. When we realize the true relation between ourselves and the world in which we appear at present, we are able to make life worth living.

The present world war seems to spell the end of something or other; it is terribly upsetting; yet it is nothing but a very natural phenomenon when we understand what it is all about. The whole world and our life is conditioned by lawful procedure. There is no arbitrariness possible in anything that takes place. Forces are set into operation over long periods of time, with varying intensities; forces of a spiritual nature: mental forces which finally materialize and take shape in physical conditions upon the planet. To understand the present, to foresee the future, we must perceive the nature of the energies which shape human lives.

Taking things for granted is the manner of children and childish minds. As long as a wonderful Providence orders things for us, we find security and we take it for granted. The planet revolves around its axis once in 24 hours. Takes a turn around the central solar body in 12 months. We take all this for granted; we give it little thought. Few ever rise from their animal desires high enough to appreciate the work which must have preceded the appearance of the planet upon the stage of life. How did we get there? Where did we come from? Where do we go hence?

It is impossible to truly appreciate what is happening in the world today and why, unless we take into consideration the whole picture of existence. Who are you? What brought you here? What do you want? Why do you live?

It so happens that I am not only a publisher of a weekly paper and a radio commentator, with occasional excursions into the realm of round table discussions on Saturday nights, but I am also entrusted with the bringing up of two boys who are to add their share to the sum total of human achievement in the course of time, and they are entitled to profit by the knowledge which I acquired in the course of years and study.

The younger of my sons, Frederick, is here tonight to take part in this program and help bring out during our discussion the essential fundamentals which one must know if one is to understand life, the present world and the world that is in the making.

DAD—Last Friday the Hi Hatters had as their principal speaker an Australian representative to the U. S., Baron D. Snider, who is reported in the press to have advised Americans to accept a temporary dictatorship.

FRED—What business has an Australian to tell us how to conduct our government, daddy? I could not find any provisions in the Constitution of the U. S. for a dictatorship. Is it possible to have a dictatorship without a constitutional amendment approved by two thirds of the states?

DAD—You are right, Fred. Our government is entirely different from the government of the British monarchial system. It is quite remarkable how foreigners who are not citizens, and never intend to become citizens, are swarming all over the U. S. telling us how to conduct our affairs for their profit. The constitution not only has no provisions for a dictatorship but was definitely drawn to prevent a dictatorship. That is why the war of independence from England was fought. The powers of government are vested in three distinct branches, the congress, the judiciary and the executive, so as to prevent any individual, or group, from assuming dictatorial powers over the people. Emergencies can be handled much better by the consent of the people than by imposing a dictatorship upon them. The present crisis proves again the wisdom of the founding fathers. The people do not want war, while every imaginable pressure is being brought to bear on the administration to take part in actual warfare and assume dictatorial powers over the lives and the property of the American people.

FRED—What is going to happen, Daddy? Is Hitler going to win the war? Is the U. S. going to submit to a temporary dictatorship? Does this mean the end of representative government, once the U. S. goes totalitarian also?

DAD—I could give you my terse reply to such questions. But I would be speaking, then, as a prophet, and a prophet is not honored in his home town. It will be much better to let you find out for yourself, what it is all about and then you can draw your own conclusions.

FRED—You mean to say that there are certain rules by which I can find out the meaning of world events? How can we tell what Hitler is going to do? Or what rabbits President Roosevelt is going to pull next? These seem to be days of unexpected surprises.

DAD—Even pulling rabbits out of a hat is made possible by very definite rules which the magician must know and observe if his trick is to work. Anything and everything that takes place in the material world is done according to unchanging rules which an intelligent observer can figure out and learn from it to produce material results. Hitler has achieved the conquest of Europe on that basis. For generations the world has been ruled by the dictates of a few resolute men and women who kept under arms sufficient soldiers to enforce their will upon an unwilling world. The Romans did it, till the Teutonic tribes broke up the old Roman empire. The British, the French, the Spanish, the Portuguese and Dutch colonial empires were created by force of arms and conquest. In the last war we helped to break down the German armies and the victorious Allies imposed the treaty of Versailles and disarmament upon Germany and dismembered Austria Hungary. The Rhineland was occupied by French colonials. This rule by force, naturally, in a people who are not sufficiently evolved to discard it and produce rule by reason and equity, brought a counter wave of effort by which the Nazi empire rose in a few years, simply by making a systematic application of the rule of force in every domain of human life.

FRED—Will Hitler conquer the world?

DAD—No more than Alexander the Great conquered the world, or Attila, or Napoleon. These wars are flurries in the life of humanity when people neglect to cultivate self-government. Jesus Christ explained the underlying law behind these occurences by the parable of the Five, Two and One Talent and then He said:"He who has not, even that which he has shall be taken away from him and he will be thrown into utter darkness, where there is wailing and gnashing of teeth".

FRED—Do we have to arm ourselves, produce more airplanes than Hitler and more warships and tanks to protect our country?

DAD—We do not have to do all that to protect ourselves, but we are doing it and are going to do even more, because as a people we have not evolved high enough to understand that reason and intelligence is a better weapon and protection than tanks and guns. We are in exactly the same fix as the people at war in Europe. They placed their faith in the sword and now they are perishing by the sword. The world has suffered from this misplaced faith since the days of Lucifer who rebelled against being ruled by divine foresight and preferred to go on his own. Mortal man, whose power is limited to destroying life and property, is not superior in intelligence and activity to the divinely awakened soul that finds joy in the creative arts of life, which surpass death. To overcome darkness it is not necessary to fight darkness. Just producing light dispels darkness. To overcome disease one does not have to vaccinate and vitamize, operate and quarantine, all one needs to do is follow the rules of right living and health results automatically. Proper exercise of the functions of the mind, soul and body produces harmony, peace, health, joy and results in deeper insight into the secrets of nature.

FRED—But how could we protect ourselves against the armies of a dictator, unless we arm also?

DAD—We are not going to follow Christ so long as there is more profit in armament for the national and international bond brokers, than there is in following Christian teachings, but I have never seen a man, or a people go out to kill his friends who are helping him make life happier. Only where people have to fight to get even a chance to survive, that the bellicose spirit thrives. There would never have been a chance, for example, for Hitler to take over Germany, if the German people had not been starving while their money was being inflated and their properties confiscated on such a falling market, for a fraction of their true worth, to satisfy obligations that were artificially manipulated by alien financiers.

FRED—You mean to say that if we, as a nation, would treat everybody fairly, we would not have to arm to protect ourselves?

DAD—Exactly; but in that case we would have no poor in our own country; no illiterate and no profiteers. Before we can have peace we must earn it. How could we treat other nations justly if we don't treat our own people right? We still have starvation and unemployment. Whenever a war is being waged it is proof that the people concerned substitute force for equity.

FRED—By equity you mean the Golden Rule, don't you, daddy?

DAD—Yes. As men and women progress slowly, they become impatient of their progress and begin finding fault with each other. Instead of looking to Number One for the cause of slow progress, they point the finger at the other fellow and jump on him. They always want to reform the other fellow rather than themselves. But no person can grow in intelligence to fit himself for the better social and individual life, unless he lives in accordance with higher intelligence.

FRED—Then they go to war, because they blame the other fellow for their own shortcomings?

DAD—People who are so ignorant that they imagine liberty can be had by killing millions of people, in place of treating them in accordance with the Golden Rule, such people are easily exploited and frightened and misled. Every great migatory war was fought for bread. The white people started out from Central Asia; they conquered Persia, Europe, America and Australia, with most of Africa. But they have not learned yet to do justice to one another. Now they are engaged in a race of armaments. Nothing good will result, because its the same type of people, white people, with the same kind of brains from the same Aryan family who are proposing to outarm each other. All they will prove is that they can kill and destroy and are a bunch of murderous fools. This is the experience which humanity is bringing upon itself to demonstrate the futility of militarism and brute force. After they will have laid the planet waste and wasted their patrimony, they will return to first principles of sanity as the prodigal son did. But what misery this is.

Britishers Stole France's Wheat Supply

NEW YORK.—As part of its desperate endeavor to avoid strangulation by blockade, the United Kingdom has plowed and planted 3,000,000 acres of aforetime grassland during the past two years. Under rigid supervision by county war agricultural committees, British farmers have cropped this new tillage to produce a maximum of the most needed foodstuffs.

In the first months of the war, emphasis was placed upon wheat. Later the control was relaxed somewhat, and farmers were given latitude in selecting their own crops. This was based upon the possession of France's hundred-million-bushel wheat reserve taken over just before the French surrender. But that seizure did not alter the necessity for taking emergency steps to provide feed for the islands' livestock. Thus far the committees have not ordered a return to emphasis upon human foodstuffs.— S. Burton Heath.

Food Lorries Stolen in Britain

LONDON,— Britain is today confronted with a new war pest—professional food thieves.

A network of these gangs has arisen. By perfect timing, lorries loaded with much-needed food supplies are disappearing—to be found 24 hours later abandoned and empty at some lonely countryside spot.

The thieves, tipped off when a food lorry is leaving a food center, follow it until the driver leaves the lorry unattended while he eats. The gang pounces, and lorry and foodstuffs are whisked into thin air.

Big hauls have been made of bacon, sugar, tea and other rationed foods, and an illicit organization disposes of the "bootleg" food.

Detectives of Scotland Yard point out that the gangs always plan to steal the class of goods that is most in demand by the public.

NEURASTHENIA

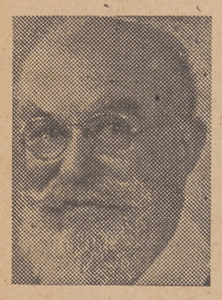
"Neurasthenia" means Nervous Prostration, or a condition of abnormal fatigue.

"Neurasthenia" is a name for a group of symptoms resulting from some functional disorder of the nervous system, with severe depression of the vital forces.



Dr. Geo. Starr White

Neurasthenia is usually due to prolonged and excessive expenditure of energy. It is marked by a tendency to fatigue; lack of energy; pain in the back; loss of memory; insomnia; constipation; indigestion; gas in the bowels, bloating; loss of appetite; and loss of interest in life.

This "nerve exhaustion" may be caused by worry or by fear just as well as by overwork or intemperance of any kind.

The taking of dopes to deaden pain or thoughts, leads straight to nerve-exhaustion.

All kinds of "pain-relieving" dopes slow up the metabolic processes and cause constipation of the bowels, as well as "constipation" of the mind.

Rapid living; late parties of all kinds; tobacco smoke—either from smoking or from inhaling others' smoke; stimulating drinks and "foods"; long automobile trips, etc., exhaust the nervous power that is required to run the human body. As the nervous power wanes the functions of the body wane, and Neurasthenia is the result.

The cure or relief lies in locating the cause and removing that cause. Find a diagnostician who believes in and practices Nature Therapy and studies Nature's Laws. Keep away from all those who use serums or vaccins, or other filthy products. Find one who will look near by for the cause of your trouble.

Some of the worst cases of Neurasthenia I have ever known were caused by wearing shoes that did not fit. Other cases I have been able to relieve at once by removing a high, or tight-fitting collar.

Many cases of Neurasthenia can be cured by teaching the victim how to do deep, abdominal breathing.

Avoid all excesses—no matter what they may be.

Every part of the body must be carefully examined to see that all is working in an orderly manner, if the true cause of any case of Neurasthenia is to be removed.

Keep the mind occupied with healthful thoughts, and keep the body mechanics in good working order.

Pope Hughes Passes the Hat

DISCIPLES OF REASON - PRESENT DAY SAINTS - HOME OFFICE IN EXILE

Christman Hotel - Bryan, Ohio, May 10th, 1941

To Cardinals of the Realm:

Due to evil spirits and an old Ford making a U turn as we were passing it, your Pope, His Eminence, Frank C. Hughes, came to earth on Saturday, May 3rd, 2325 S. A. (Since Aristotle—1941 as by the ignorant and wicked).

The descent was anything but gradual and the damage to the Pope's new chariot amounts to about $500.00, while the "jumiliation" suffered by His Holiness, runs into the millions. Can you visualize a Pope at the bottom of a heap, sliding on his ear when he belongs at the top?

Confidentially the loss is fully covered by insurance but it is my order that you take up special collections for your beloved Pope, in all churches under your jurisdiction. Your commission will be 25 per cent—same as for blessing cars, forgiving sins and selling indulgences. Returns must be sent to the Home office promptly.

It has been revealed to me that we should, in order to meet and defeat competition, equip our Pope with diamond head gear, diamond rings, and expensive silk lined robes, lace fringed with much gold braid.

On account of the attractiveness of your Pope many women have sought membership in our most honored order. When you have equipped your Pope with proper vestments and tiara, women will flock to us in great numbers. I will then take such steps as are necessary to keep them in their proper place.

While I am doing your thinking for you and planning to spend all P. D. S. funds on myself, I demand that you work all suckers for money. Montana Cardinals should watch Cardinals Goodspeed and Oliver to see that the Home office is not short changed.

Cardinals Sprague and Hendee of Maine, Goldsborough of Washington, D. C., Altman of Florida, Ogg of California, Shaffer of Colorado, Hydo of Montana, Mayall of Ohio and Perkins of Seattle are also under suspicion.

By the time this Bull reaches you, our hero and great leader expects to be enroute to the Sanctuary at Squirred Island, Maine.

Sincerely, His Holiness,
FRANK C. HUGHES.
Pope of the Bad Lands, D. O. R., P. D. S.

NATHAN, F. B. I. Boss

sation which he did. Jarvis is tall and sixty, I would say. We chewed the rag about this and that until finally: "I understand that the postal department is investigating me, so I thought we might as well get acquainted. When I investigate somebody, I also ask for an interview with him, because by getting to know the original, I can better judge what to discount and where to check up."

"But the postal department is not investigating you, for a fact, I am telling you the truth. Who told you you were being investigated?"

"Now Mr. Jarvis,—you are not confiding in me, why do you expect me to confide in you? I quite realize that officially you must deny that you are investigating me, but in that case the people who reported to me on your activities must be liars and I know they are not the liars."

"Well, then I'll say this much. The postal department is not investigating you, but I have done so upon request of another branch of the federal government."—(State Department).

"It makes no difference to me. Anything that anybody does to me always turns in my favor in the end because I follow principle and recognize no lord over me save God. You see we both have taken an oath to obey the constitution and our loyalty is to the constitution and not to the administration in power."

"But the authorities decide what is constitutional", replied Jarvis. "The Supreme Court has the last word."

"You are mistaken. God has the last word." And Jarvis kept up that noncommital poker face which he was wearing during the whole interview. "Besides there is nowhere a provision made for the suspension of the constitution, in the constitution, nor is there authority vested in the Supreme Court to tell us what the Constitution is, or is not. Therefore, we the people, are the ultimate authority, each one of us according to our conscience which binds us to that oath, must decide what the constitution is and that we must follow in honesty."

"But does the supreme court not say what is unconstitutional?"

"That is a different story. The Supreme Court protects the citizen against unconstitutional encroachments, when it choses to do so, and that is its proper judicial function in the course of litigation; but because the court says that this and that is constitutional, when the constitution reads to the contrary, does not make it so."

"Who is to be the judge of it?"

"You and I. We are the sovereign people and since we did not expressedly delegate any power to the Supreme Court to decide what the constitution is, we reserved that power to ourselves as it is definitely stated in the constitution that all powers not hereby delegated are reserved to the states, respectively, and to the people."

And we chewed the rag a little more about local, personal and general affairs, till I invited Jarvis to subscribe to THE BROOM. He promised to do so in the near future, and he promised to listen to my radio talks. And with assurances of mutual admiration and his invitation to call on him at any time, we shook hands.

Harold Nathan — Nertz! Nertz, and more Nertz!

In the afternoon, on the dot of 2:30, I opened the door of the FBI office. I had a new view of the girl and could check up on my previous impressions. "So you are Mr. de Aryan. Mr. Nathan is in. I'll announce you.—Please step in Mr. de Aryan."

And there was Harold Nathan himself. Short pipe between his teeth. With the Semitic nose and features of the stocky, hard boiled, aggressive man of business. He offered me a seat and a grim silence. I kept it up, studying the man's being, history and future from the lines of his body and his posture at the desk. Of course, it was distasteful to him to have me around, but he managed to make talk about nothing, freezing up, after each sentence, letting me lead him on until I maneuvered to thaw him up sufficiently to give me the interview I had come for (but he did not dream I was getting). Naturally, he was at a disadvantage. I know him and his kind, know the whole racial history and its evolution, have sparred with them many a time in previous incarnations and was born right in their midst again in eastern Europe where I learned Yiddish as a tot, while he has not yet risen to the heights of spirit and the idealism of the divinely conscious soul who loves God and fears no man.

"I understand that you are investigating me."

"That is not true. We are not investigating you." (I guess he is right, he was not investigating me at that exact moment, even though he has done so previously and will continue. What a pity he missed this great chance while I was with him. But many people do not see with their eyes wide open.)

"Now, you know you have been investigating me and I know it. That is the fact we both know."

And Nathan opened his eyes wide and gave me an intense stare as a dog does when he tries to frighten you before he makes up his mind whether to jump on you or not. But I gave him back. And so we stared, and stared, regular detective story fashion. . . who would outstare the other?

And it reminded me of the time when at the age of 16 I was initiated into the secrets of hypnotism. I always outstared my instructors and put them to sleep, instead of yielding to their hypnotic spell. All one has to do is remember God's Presence and nobody ever can hypnotize you. Today, what is called war hysteria and fear of invasion, is nothing but the devilish hypnotism of the warmongers who are driving the people of the world to murder each other that the B'nai B'rithishers may appropriate the pieces after the fool Gentiles sold themselves into bondage, into the hundreds of billions, to the bond brokers, in order to carry on world carnage against fellow Gentiles.

Finally Nathan decided he could not outstare me and his magic did not work. So he explained: "What I should have said is that I am non-commital! that would have been better."

"Well, I accept your apology. We both know where we stand. Tell me is it true that you were sent to the sticks, in San Diego, to get rid of you because you were becoming too prominent and in the way of Mr. Hoover, feeding too many inner secrets to Walter Winchell?"

"Nertz! Nertz, and more Nertz!"

"But I am told on good authority that this is the reason you are here."

"Nertz! nertz, nertz . . . You wrote that in your paper some weeks ago. Why did you not ask me about it, first?"

"But I came to see you. Your young lady was too fussy to let me see you, and since I was going to press shortly after that, I had to take the word of my reporters and published it."

"Nertz, nertz . . . . Yes, I remember you called on me . . . They told me so and they gave me two copies of the paper to read . . . "

"By the way, why don't you subscribe for it, then you will get it first hand?"

"I am too busy to read papers, too much work to do."

"But every patriotic American should read the BROOM. I have an outstanding publication in San Diego that is not afraid to stick up for the constitution and tell the truth about our authorities, no matter who is involved."

"How do you know what the constitution is?"

"I can read, Mr. Nathan."

"But nobody knows what the constitution is. When the NRA was enacted nobody knew whether it was constitutional till finally the supreme court declared it unconstitutional."

"Don't judge me by yourself. If you don't know, don't include me in your attitude. I knew and I said so and I wrote a letter to the president and told him where he can go and I never signed up. I am the only publisher in San Diego who sent him such a reply. The constitution speaks for itself. We both took an oath to uphold it. I kept my oath. And there is nobody who is going to tell me what to do or not to do. I know. And whenever any of you fellows usurp powers against us, I'll hold you responsible and it matters not to me what position you hold. The constitution is above you, not at your mercy and my oath of allegiance is not to the fellows in office, but to the constitution."

"But one has responsibilities to the state and must obey the authorities."

"You mean to say, My Country Right or Wrong . . . and you will obey orders of the government when it is wrong?"

"Certainly. The Congres is duly representative and what it decides goes."

"That is your attitude, but not mine. The president and the congress are not my Lord. I only recognize one Lord, the Almighty. Both the congress and the president have proved time and again that they were wrong. Even you admitted it in the NRA case. So when a matter of high import comes up, my duty is to my God through my oath of allegiance, 'so help me God' —for how could He help me if I didn't place His comandments above what the president and congress command, when they are wrong?"

"But we must obey our authorities, the supreme court decides what is right and wrong, constitutional or not".

"No, Mr. Nathan. If my country makes a wrong decision it is my duty to set my country right, so it won't persish by going against God and His laws which no supreme court, no congress and no president can set aside. And if the price I have to pay to bring out the truth and save my country, is harsh and painful, as a good American it is my duty to give my life in the service of my country—to wake them up, to prevent national suicide . . . "

And Harold Nathan's face lit up. "You might be right. It might be our duty to set the country right if it is wrong . . . " And the young lady walked in with some papers, interrupting our most important interview. The most valuable one Nathan had in his borne days. After she left: "Do you ever listen to my radio talks?"

"No I don't. I only listen to good music."

"Alright, I'll ask Mrs. de Aryan to sing for you on the radio. Will you listen?"

"Of course, I will . . . "

"We'll let you know . . . ", and Nathan explained that the young lady had announced another caller, (and she did interrupt our conference and no red tape about it) and we shook hands . . . Auf Wiedersehen! And Nathan gazed deeply into my eyes again, perhaps to fathom the depth of my soul or from routine hokum to frighten his victims, and while shaking hands said:

"Do you know what I told them, when they came to me? I told them they were giving you too much importance."

Oh, Nathan, Nathan, even you confess finally, the truth.

Sir Henry Self Praises Consair's Labors in the British Cause

Appreciation for aircraft already supplied Great Britain and expectation of even greater numbers of planes was expressed by Sir Henry Self, director general of the British air commission, in a telegram to Maj. R. H. Fleet, president of the Consolidated Aircraft Corp.

Sir Henry, who recently visited the Consair plant, wired as follows:

"On the conclusion of my visit to the west coast, I would like to send you this message of warm appreciation for all you have done and are doing in the British cause. I cannot adequately express our admiration and gratitude for the splendid achievement now being realized in your expanded and highly efficient plant.

"I know a little of what the effort must have entailed and offer your our warmest congratulations. We are deeply indebted to you for the substantial deliveries of your splendid aircraft which we have already received and look forward with eager expectation to the still greater deliveries which are to come."

Now why do we have such things as bedbugs
To steal our sleep in the dead of night ?
Well, we might grow to be lazy and shiftless,
If we didn't have to put up a good fight.

And why do we have such a thing as war
To spoil all the quiet we love so well ?
Perhaps to keep us from growing too soft.
The best fighter wins. But war is hell !

Mazdaznan Science And Faith

Synopsis of Breath Lesson Number One given broadcast unto all the world. Irrespective of caste, creed or color, aiming toward fellowship, friendship, a brotherhood that will lead mankind to the fount of truth as revealed by Mazdaznan—the only and straight way.

Since we exist in a World of Vision, a sense world, we hold that Success depends, to a degree at least, upon the control we have over our senses and habits. We hold that God and Nature has endowed man with Twelve Senses, seven of which are now quite commonly known as—Seeing, Hearing, Smelling, Tasting, Touching, Feeling and Intuition, while the Five Intermediate Senses are less known or considered to be phenomenal, yet known to the Student of Nature's Finer Forces in Man, as—Thought Transmission, Telepathy, Spiritual Discernment, Clearsight and Realization.

The development of all these senses, in part or in whole, depends upon the individual's Dynamic Capacity, which is determined by inclinations peculiar to Temperament. Breath is the underlying principle of Life, and the rhythm in the inspiration and expiration, with the intervening retentment and arrestment, determines the development of the Body and Mind. To the extent that one's body suffers discomfort, ache, pain, disease—to that extent there will be found insufficient dynamic action in the expiration. Carbonacious and other gaseous accumulations not only interfere with the oxygenation of the blood but infect it through deposits made by effete, morbid, acrid and other matter. In case of physical discomfort or disease we use the "Yima Exercise" which brings immediate relief, arrests pain and disease. We do not claim for it the eradication of disease, but all trouble will be arrested until other natural means can be employed. A few trials will convince one of the efficacy of this Exercise.

PROPERTY

One little word I have in mind,
Which before long must be defined,
To save our country's liberty,
This little word is PROPERTY.

What you create and I create
Belongs to us. The aggregate
As such, if given to a third
Who has not helped, makes things absurd.

He spends his time in getting more
Of wealth he is not working for.
The more he prospers in his turn,
The more I have for him to earn.

Until at last he has it all,
Which starts abrupt rolling the ball,
As seen in Spain and Germany
Where now they FIGHT for liberty,
Instead of Earning it.
